Death ☐ Death from an in-clinic abortion is very rare. The risk of death from an abortion goes up the longer you are pregnant. When an abortion is done at less than 20 weeks of pregnancy (about 4 ½ months), the risk of death from childbirth is higher than the risk of abortion. After 20 weeks of pregnancy, the risks are about the same.

How to reduce the cost of treating incomplete abortions, a leading cause of maternal deaths.

At a UN General Assembly Special Session in 1999, governments recognised unsafe abortion as a major public health concern, and pledged their commitment to reduce the need for abortion through expanded and improved family planning services, as well as ensure abortion services should be safe and accessible. This technical and policy guidance provides a comprehensive overview of the many actions that can be taken in health systems to ensure that women have access to good quality abortion services as allowed by law.

Adding to the burgeoning study of medicine and science in Latin America, this important book offers a comprehensive historical perspective on the highly contentious issues of sexual and reproductive health in an important Andean nation. Raul Necochea Lopez approaches family planning as a historical phenomenon layered with medical, social, economic, and moral implications. At stake in this complex mix were new notions of individual autonomy, the future of gender relations, and national prosperity. The implementation of Peru's first family planning programs led to a rapid professionalization of fertility control. Complicating the evolution of associated medical services were the conflicting agendas of ordinary citizens, power brokers from governmental and military sectors, clergy, and international health groups. While family planning promised a greater degree of control over individuals' intimate lives, as well as opportunities for economic improvement through the effective management of birth rates, the success of attempts to regulate fertility was far from assured. Today, Necochea Lopez observes, although the quality of family planning resources in Peru has improved, services remain far from equitably available.

“The Lies I Tell” contains the riveting testimony of Marlene A.S. Hickman, known as Maxine to her friends and family. From her traumatic beginning in Jamaica, she was confronted with abuse and abandonment from the people who should have protected and loved her. She escaped to New York at seventeen years old, only to encounter hardships and deceit. Her remarkable determination and faith in God helped her overcome the adversities and achieve many accomplishments including her Bachelor and Master of Science degrees and her contributions as a SIFI instructor for the Master of Social Work Program at New York University (NYU) and Adjunct Professor at Long Island University (LIU).
