Surprising and

When

Freakonomics was

first published,

the authors

started a

blog—and they've kept it up. The writing is more

casual, more

personal, even more outlandish

than in their books. In When
to Rob a Bank,
they ask a host
of typically off-
center

questions: Why
don't flight attendants get tipped? If you were a terrorist, how would you

attack? And why does KFC always run out of fried chicken? Over the past decade, Steven D. Levitt and Stephen J.

Dubner have published more than 8,000 blog posts on Freakonomics.com. Many of them, they freely admit,

Super

were rubbish.

But now they've gone through and picked the best of the best.

You'll discover what people lie about, and why; the best way to cut gun deaths; why it might be time for a sex tax; and, yes, when to rob a bank. (Short answer: never;

the ROI is
terrible.)

You'll also learn a great deal about Levitt and

Dubner's own
quirks and
passions, from gambling and
golf to backgammon and

the abolition of the penny.

An
